

Medicinally.

After going to bed, Irish men, or any class of the people in which others may be assembled, are not to be taken when there is any washing being done at home.

When the painter is in the house.

When a person has a cold, and does not know what the matter with him is.

When a friend turns up after an absence of several years, or when you are parting with a friend whom you do not expect to see for several years.

When a person has the toothache.

When a person has lost a card, or when a person has come into a large property.

When a person has met with a great misfortune, or made a tremendous bargain.

When a person has quarreled, and when a reconciliation has taken place.

When a person is on a sea voyage, or goes out between the sets of a five act tragedy, or before appearing in a nation, or after coming out of the jury of a coroner's inquest, or when a friend does up a state dress, and, in fact, upon all suitable occasions of sadness or merriment, when a person feels rather low, or is in very high spirits.

In Louisiana nine of ten men unconnected with Federal and State office are in favor of Stephen A. Douglas as President of the United States, and they are so from no mere personal feeling or prejudice, but solely because they are more satisfied with his record and present position than of any other public man whose name could with propriety be associated with the distinguished place. His great intellect, his untiring efforts, his past never-to-be-forgotten services to the South and the Union, and that which others have been in the habit of regarding as his weakness, his sympathy with the Union, that in the South itself no single man can be named in opposition to him, or is presented as a weaker man, are all factors against him for popular preference, all conspire to root in the enlightened mind of Louisiana what it becomes its people to do upon this national occasion, and they will not disappoint the expectations their past history inspires.

Already in this city the needful preparations for sending true men to the polls are completed, and if the people of the country partake of the only half as active and zealous as their brethren here are sure to be, an undivided expression of opinion in favor of the great statesman of the West will be sent booming over the land in March next.—N. O. Delta.

The New York Courier has an article on shirt buttons, and recommends the subject to the Woman's Home, saying: "The Club will devote some means by which buttons can be made to stand firm if they will devise a new method of fastening them in the shirt, or will improve upon what is generally the abominable custom of having shirt buttons not only fastened to the shirt, but fastened firmly, so that they will pull out, and will entitle them to the thanks of all communities."

BUSINESS AFFAIRS.

Portraits.—Guthrie & Brothers received today, by express, a lot of plain and figured poplins and satin lusters, to which they invite the ladies' special attention. This is the first arrival of fine dress goods for the spring, and they will be examined with interest. Call at 118 Fourth street, east side.

P. W. Ramsey, on Third street, is one of the best watch-makers in our city. If you have a fine watch or clock out of order, take it to him for repairs. He has a great variety of watches, jewelry, clocks, silverware and fine spectacles, which he is selling very cheap.

At a time when there is great fear that the stock of dry lumber, ash, doors, blinds, &c., will fall soon, owing to the vast amount of improvements in Louisville, it will be interesting to the public to know that Alexander Ellis & Co., have enlarged their factory and have now on hand several million of dry lumber. Call at their office on Main street, nearly opposite the Cash House, or at their factory on Fulton, above Preston street.

J. N. Collins has the best of coal at his office, Third street, between Market and Jefferson. Give him your orders.

The great clothing house of J. M. Armstrong, on Main street, opposite the National Hotel, is now being replenished with an elegant stock of men and boys' clothing for the present season. His stock is well assorted. Those in want of any garments for their men, youths or children's wear, will do well to call at Armstrong's.

TAKERS.—Among the places worthy of the attention of the visitors to Louisville at the present time, is the great trunk manufactory and emporium of J. B. MacFarland, on the northeast corner of Fourth and Main streets. His large manufactory enables him to supply trunks, valises, baggage, hat boxes, carpet bags, bureau trunks, &c., of the very best quality, at unprecedented low prices. All of Mr. MacFarland's work is beautiful as well as durable goods. Give him a call.

Look to Your Interests.

The people are aware that D. O'Hara, No. 427 Main street, is the oldest, largest and most experienced manufacturer of trunks and similar articles in the city. They should avail themselves of the rare opportunities afforded by Mr. O'Hara. To country and city merchants he offers peculiar advantages in his wholesale department, while in the retail line he cannot be equaled. Whoever wants to travel, whether with a small carpet-bag or a mammoth trunk, need go no further than to the Great Western Trunk Factory of Mr. O'Hara.

His manufactory is a credit to Louisville, and should meet with extensive patronage. Hundreds of workmen are employed, and thousands of dollars weekly disbursed. As a matter of some pride, and to the credit of his country, he has been successful in securing the patronage of the highest quality of goods, and he is constantly improving his machinery, and should meet with extensive patronage. Room SKIRTS.—John M. Robinson & Co. are now manufacturing a large stock for the Spring trade. Their Skirts have attained great popularity, so they use only the very best tempered watch spring steel, and each hoop is fastened to the tapes by means of a unique loop instead of the ordinary clasp. Thus effectively preventing the annoyance of the tapes being constantly getting into the skirts, and had at all the retail houses throughout the South and West. Sell only at wholesale.
